

Kentucky Education and Workforce Collaborative

State of the Workforce Funding Report 2025

Background

In July 2020, Governor Andy Beshear issued Executive Order 2020-551 that established the Kentucky Education and Workforce Collaborative. The collaborative includes 19 members from across the commonwealth's executive branch agencies, as well as stakeholder partners who work together on critical workforce priorities. This group takes an intragovernmental approach to the Kentucky Workforce Innovation Board's (KWIB) workforce development strategy by supporting individuals, businesses and partner customers while moving Kentucky forward as a leader in workforce innovation.

One of the key efforts of the collaborative is the annual compilation of the State of the Workforce Funding Report. This report seeks to identify all federal and state-funded workforce-related education, training, career services and support service activities in the past three programmatic years provided by the collaborative's respective agencies or entities.

Additionally, this funding report highlights return on investment (ROI) as identified by the KWIB through three foundational metrics: (1) number of individuals served through partner programs, (2) number of individuals who are placed in jobs, and (3) participants' average wages. It is important to note that many of the workforce programs are designed to serve different populations and segments in the workforce system, so these foundational metrics should be viewed as a point of reference versus a definitive ROI per program. Moreover, the service populations have varying level of needs (e.g. individual requesting resume assistance versus someone with disabilities needs vocational training) and unique outcomes metrics.

In line with the executive order, this completed compiled funding report is presented to the KWIB for review and understanding of the larger workforce system. This report is meant to provide the collected information for reference and a high-level review, it is not meant to serve as a comprehensive analysis of the workforce system.

Report Contents

This report encompasses workforce development funding information from state agencies and partner organizations represented on the collaborative as well as other entities for:

- Program Year 2022 (July 1, 2022 – June 30, 2023)
- Program Year 2023 (July 1, 2023 – June 30, 2024)
- Program Year 2024 (July 1, 2024 – June 30, 2025)

Key information includes:

- Whether the source of funding is federal or state dollars
- If funds are used for education, training, support services, career services, or a combination of these services
- Outcomes to demonstrate ROI per number of individuals served, number of job placements, and participants' average wages

Categories of services are defined as:

- Education: Investment used for long-term career preparation. Examples include higher education degrees, certificates, certifications, credentials, digital badging, and integrated education programs,
- Training: Investment in programs that are occupation specific. Examples include on-the-job training, incumbent worker training, internships, pre-apprenticeships, registered apprenticeships and career pathways exposure.

- Supportive Services: Investment in services such as transportation, childcare, dependent care, housing and needs-related payments, linkage to community services, assistance with educational training, reasonable accommodations for youth with disabilities, referral to medical services, and assistance with appropriate work attire and work-related tools.
- Career Services: Provision of services related to employment and career assistance, such as career coaching, career awareness, career exploration, labor market information sharing, resume building, interview skills, and job placement services.

The below snapshot shows contributing agencies and the three-year totals for each of the required elements (full agency names are provided on the last page to accompany acronyms used)

It is important to note that workforce development funding has become much more distributive across federal and state agencies as well as public and private partners. Therefore, the information in this report may not encompass every program or service offered in the commonwealth.

The report may include duplicative information as both state and local-level programs are represented. Often, both state and federal funding flows through state government agencies and is distributed to other partners represented in this report. Additionally, most federal funding awards allow for state agencies and local programs to expend the funds over multiple years. Therefore, the report highlights dollars appropriated versus dollars spent each year.

Based on the submissions, it is notable that there are over 565 funding streams that support one or more of the categories of workforce development services across the last three program years. Each of the funding streams are provided in the Appendix. Collectively, the total funding stream funds are more than $2.8 billion across the three program years.

With the understanding that some duplication may be occurring, it is estimated that over the three programmatic years a total of 186,382 people were placed in jobs with an average wage of $21.31/hr. It is again of great importance to note the breadth of agencies captured in the report and the variety of workforce services provided. Each agency has their own requirements that may not completely align to the KWIB foundational ROI metrics; these metrics are intended to give a point of reference for the programs that are intended to capture these specific data points.

To view the full comprehensive compilation of data for each agency per funding stream, please refer to Appendix A. To view the combined data per program year for each agency, please refer to Appendix B.
